

Do We Administer the CELDT or the ELPAC in 2017–18?

The English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC) is replacing the California English Language Development Test (CELDT)¹.

More information about the ELPAC can be found on the California Department of Education ELPAC Web page at: <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/ep/> or at the Educational Testing Service ELPAC Web page at: <http://www.elpac.org/>.

More information about the CELDT can be found on the California Department of Education CELDT Web page at: <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/tg/el/>.

1. This document is designed to show the test(s) taken by students whose primary language is not English. Students who are classified as English only will not take either of these tests.
2. Students identified as an English learner in the 2017–18 school year will take the ELPAC Summative Assessment, unless they are classified as an English learner after the summative window closes.
3. Districts that are participating in the ELPAC field test will administer both the CELDT Initial Assessment and the ELPAC Initial Assessment. Only the CELDT scores will be used to determine if a student is English proficient or is an English learner.
